PLAN REJECTED.

Universal 2-Cent Postage Is Defeated at Congress.

Rome, May 3.—The committee of the international postal convention has rejected the proposal of the delegate of New Zealand for the establishment of a universal 2-cent postage rate. The proposition was supported only by the delegates of Egypt and the United States.

A motion of the Japanese to reduce the international postage rate to 4 cents was rejected by a majority of three. Arthur B. Walkley of Great Britain had presented the same proposition, which was abandoned, and instead he proposed to maintain the present rate of international postage, but establishing after the first 15 grams a scale of 2 cents for every 15 successive grams, which was adopted by a majority of

BUNCHED HITS OFF YOUNG

And Senators From Washington Won 3 to 2

IN A VERY CLOSE BATTLE

Boston Never Overcame Slight Lead Which Visitors Secured in First Inning—Boston Nationals Lost Also.

Boston, May 3.—The Americans returned home yesterday and started off a long series by going down before the Senators from Washington, 4 to 3, in a very evenly contested game. Each side made nine hits and an error, and the honors were about even between Young and Patten. The last inning was pitched by Winter, as Godwin had batted for Young in the ninth.

The visitors started off strong in the first inning, Nill leading with a single to right and being forced a minute later by Schaffly. Hickman got a safe pop in center field and Cross was out to Collins. Then Anderson's short fly fell safe in center field and Schaffly went in while Hickman roared on third. When Anderson started a bluff at stealing, Hickman started for the plate and got there safely, as Graham dropped Grimsley's throw. Stahl was out to Ferris.

A little luck and some hitting gave the locals a score in the fourth inning. Chick Stahl was out to Anderson and Parent bunted in front of the plate. Patten tried to get him at first and threw wild. Parent went to second. Freeman walked and Grimsley hit such a hot one that Schaffly couldn't hold it, filling the bases. Ferris was out on a foul to Stahl, and Patten walked Graham, sending in a full Young. Young forebore, making third out.

Patten got out of another bad hole in the seventh inning. After Graham had singled, Young forced him at second. Selbach fled out, but Collins singled, and both went along a base on a passed ball. Stahl got a free pass and the bases were full again. Parent closed the chances, however, by going out to Jones.

A triple by Schaffly and a single by Hickman gave Washington their third run in the eighth inning. Although Ferris tripled in Boston's half of the same inning and Graham walked, Godwin, who batted for Young, was the third out on an easy chance to Jones. Winter went into the box for Young in the ninth and made short work of the visitors, striking out Stahl and Jones and causing Heydon to pop to Ferris.

The home team managed to squeeze in one more run in the ninth inning on a fielder's choice, which placed Stahl on first and two singles by Parent and Freeman.

ABOUT CIGARS

C. H. Kendrick & Co. Tell What Barre Smokers Most Enjoy.

"You would be surprised," said Mr. Kendrick of C. H. Kendrick & Co.'s drug store, "to see the different selections of cigars made in our store in the course of a day and hear each man's reason for his preference." Continuing, he said that "the majority of Barre smokers prefer a Wadsworth Bros. Chio." "It is a finely flavored, clean Havana filled cigar, made from tobacco thoroughly ripened under the rays of the southern sun. The tobacco used in the Chio is fully matured and seasoned and burns finely and perfectly, with a fine flavor and fragrance. We recommend a cigar with a dark wrapper, as this shows that the tobacco has been fully matured, but whichever color, light or dark, is selected in the Wadsworth Bros. Chio, you will get a good, perfect, satisfying smoke at five cents a cigar equal to the ordinary ten and fifteen-cent values."

The score was a tie, each team securing two runs, although Vermont had one more chance at the bat than Williams. Both teams hit the ball hard, but Williams could not make it safe.

SAN FRANCISCO IS CHEERFUL

Some of Its Views, However, Too Optimistic

LIKE NEW MINING CAMP

Offices and Stores in Rough Sheds—Payment of Insurance Losses Slow—Strenuous Efforts to Rebuild.

San Francisco, May 3.—One San Francisco newspaper, published for the time being in Oakland, said editorially Tuesday that business had now been restored practically to normal conditions in the stricken city. In fact, the Merchants' Exchange is conducting its affairs on the sidewalk; the local headquarters of great railroad systems are housed in rude shacks of rough boards and rusty sheets of galvanized iron picked out of the neighboring ruins; the state supreme court is holding sessions in a Jewish synagogue; the representatives of the fire insurance companies are beginning the adjustment of losses in the open air in one of the public parks; and the mayor's official carriage is a borrowed sewing machine wagon, drawn by a crippled horse. That gives a fair epitome of the normal condition of today. There is real life in San Francisco, but it is more the life of the mining camp of forty-nine than of the modern metropolis. On all sides San Franciscans are minimizing the disaster, declaring that every sign of the catastrophe will have disappeared in two years from this time. Impossible as this is, they appear to believe what they are saying.

Strenuous Efforts to Rebuild. Nowhere within the desolated expanse of the burned district, however, has business of any sort, not even that of the peanut stand, been reestablished on anything like a normal basis. Yet the gigantic effort of restoration has fairly begun, and seems certain to go on for this time without interruption. In five years' time there will be a new city, stronger than the old, better in every way. The people of every class and walk in life are working together to that end without fear or difference. Already syndicates are forming among the bankers and capitalists of the state to take up the proposed municipal bond issue which is to provide the ready money for rebuilding. One of the strongest banks of the city, the Hibernian, has formally announced that money paid under fire insurance policies which the bank holds as collateral for loans will be used as the deposit of those of its mortgagees who desire to restore their properties by new buildings, and it is said that other banks will follow this lead.

Labor Union's Stand.

Most of the more liberal labor unions have decided to ignore the union question for the present, and some of them are doing all in their power to secure work for any man who wants it and will take it. There is little doubt but what the rigid control of the distribution of food will largely clear up this question of idleness before the end of the week. In San Francisco and Oakland all saloons opened last night and will be permitted to remain open from 8 o'clock in the morning to 7 o'clock in the evening.

Insurance Companies Slow.

The machinery of commerce when once fully checked is not easy to set in motion, and that is one of the most important problems waiting solution. The majority of the city bank vaults are still far too hot to open with safety, and even had a bank ample funds on deposit at the time, it could do but little general business without its books and its signature cards. Then, too, the insurance companies, it is asserted, are slow in liquidating their losses, and thus there is an additional setback. So impatient are some people to get their insurance money that so-called adjusters, who advance money on the policies at the rate of 10 or 15 per cent, have begun to be in evidence.

THIN BLOOD

Thin blooded people are called anaemics. Anaemics present a haggard and fatigued appearance, have weak nerves and lack vitality. This disease is more frequent in girls and women than in boys and men. In fact, 90% of it is found in growing girls.

Any doctor will tell you that common sense is as important in medicine as in other vocations. Particularly is this true in treating Anaemia. Nature intended that we should all have a good supply of rich, red blood, and if this is lacking steps should be taken at once to remedy the defect.

The way to accomplish this desired result is to follow the plan adopted by Nature. The elements required are Nature's reconstructives. These are to be found in Magee's Emulsion. This marvelous remedy is made up of Cod Liver Oil, Malt and Hypophosphites—all builders and not destroyers.

Alcoholic medicines are worse than useless. They produce a temporary heat owing to the artificial stimulation, but a reaction follows which is particularly disastrous to anaemics.

Magee's Emulsion contains no alcohol. It imparts warmth to the system while it is enriching the blood. Persons with thin blood feel the cold weather more than others and are subject to Colds, Bronchial and Pulmonary affections. Magee's Emulsion primes the system to throw off these colds and makes blood, bone and muscle.

COMMITMENT FEES CHARGED DOUBLE?

Hint at Hearing on the House of Correction That Offices Get Two Fees for Committing the Same Person.

Rutland, May 3.—The hearing into the conditions in the house of correction was resumed yesterday before only one member of the special commission, C. H. A. Stafford of Morrisville. Gov. Bell was present during a part of the time. Orrin Richardson and Officer Snide, both former prisoners, testified. The latter said he served nearly two years at the institution, covering a period which Petrie claimed was full of incidents where the prisoners were terribly mistreated by the officers. He said he had an opportunity to see all the tongs that Petrie claimed to have seen, but he did not know of any case where a man was treated unjustly, although they were sometimes given harsh punishment. He thought that the place was kept clean and found the food much better than he expected. He stated that Petrie was addicted to grumbling occasionally. The subject which received the most attention by Attorney General Clarke

C. Fitts was in regard to the extra sentences that were imposed upon criminals because of the expense claimed by the officers for arrest, trial and commitment. According to the provisions of the Vermont statutes a prisoner who is unable to pay his fine, in addition to the costs, shall pay the same by serving a sentence in the state prison or house of correction. A man arrested in Rutland for a first offense of intoxication usually has costs of about $5 attached to his fine, while if he is arrested in any other town in the state and sent to the house of correction there is the railroad fare to be added besides the board that is necessary during the time between his arrest and the time he arrives at the house of correction. A man arrested in Bellows Falls and fined $5 and costs would, according to these conditions, receive a sentence of just twice the term that a Rutland man would receive for a similar offense and equal fine.

Another point that was gone over thoroughly was whether or not it was right for a person arrested and tried in the same court and on the same day for two separate and distinct offenses to have costs for the two attached to his fine. Superintendent D. L. Morgan produced multimittimus for the commitments of nineteen prisoners, where the offenders had been tried on the same day and in the same court for two offenses. Whether or not the officer had charged the state for the double expense will be referred to the state auditor.

"The Cleaner that Made Troy Laundries Famous"

No Boiling Required

NO BOILING! Think of it! Does the full import of these words strike you? To the careworn housewife overburdened with responsibilities, and wash day with its drudgery approaching, these words are sweet music to the ear.

Boiling wears the clothes more than anything else, but for years it was the only way to thoroughly cleanse them. Now it is different. With the advent of Polk's Troy Laundry Washing Crystals, otherwise known as a new order of things came into existence. You simply soak the clothes in tub or washer. You are no longer compelled to breathe the steam from a boiler full of dirty clothes; you do not have to wipe off the windows before you can look out; your washing does not drag through the day so that dinner has to consist of cold victuals. You can have your washing out by nine o'clock and your clothes will look brighter and cleaner than ever before.

All by using SAVES THE RUB, that clear, pure crystal of concentrated energy which lessens the dirt and brightens everything. You can use it on colored clothes and the most delicate laces without the slightest injury. It is "the Cleaner that made Troy Laundries Famous." That's why it is so good. Order a package to-day.
